Dear Mr. Weisberg -

I'm sorry that I haven't had the time until now to get back to you on those materials you requested, but it being my first year of law school I'm generally pretty busy.

Two of the enclosed articles I sent with some degree of uncertainty as to whether or not they related specifically to what you are dealing with, but I hope they might prove of some interest to you anyway.

In going over old issues of the Journal of Forensic Sciences, I came across an article by Don Olson & Ralph F. Turner on their analysis of the photographic evidence of the assassination. The article mentioned you in passing. It was printed in October, 1971. If you would like the article, I'll send it to you.

In reference to the Enquirer article Robert enclosed herein, you conclude that the throat wound is a wound of entrance. (unless the article is misinterpreting you) I've always believed this to be the case myself, but what of the FBI reports which maintained the fibers on JFK's shirt collar were turned outward indicating a wound of exit? Also, what of the lack of metallic traces the FBI reported on the collar hole?

I was interested in knowing what tests, to your knowledge, have been performed on CE. 399 other than those which are general knowledge?

Also, I was wondering when and where the appeal will be argued? Is there still time to get off another batch of material to you before the case comes up?

Best of luck to you,
Jerry Kay

P.S. - When do you expect Post-Mortem to be coming out?
